

RANCH & CAMPGROUND, LLP

“Registered National Natural Landmark & Colorado Natural Area”

Dear Campers,

Indian Springs Ranch is a beautifully scenic area which represents the rustic environment throughout Colorado. Our working ranch consisting of cattle and horses is full of activity. With horseshoes, swimming, hiking, arrow head hunting, and nearby fishing at Brush Hollow or Beaver Creek there is always something fun.

Since we are listed as a Colorado Natural Area, while hiking you may see deer, coyotes, rabbits and even wild turkeys. Our ranch has an old stagecoach road and an old hand-hewn log cabin built by Wild Bill McKinney who rode with Quantrill's Raiders and is well-known to history buffs. Here you really are “Out West.”

Indian Springs Ranch is located between Penrose and Cañon City on Highway 67. Turn north on 67 just west of the Fremont County Airport. The entrance is four miles north of the turnoff and the campground is another 1¼ miles west on the ranch road.

If you're looking for a peaceful, secluded place to camp free from the stresses of everyday life, come spend a weekend with us or longer!

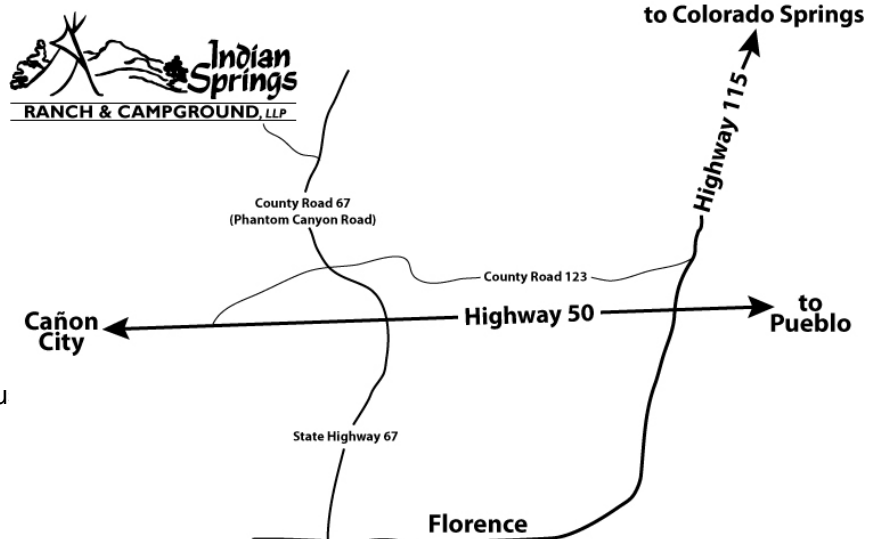

Come Relax and Enjoy!
